Hola Señorita Chikita, (Patty)

I'll have to admit I was a little apprehensive about this class at first being 1 of only 3 Seniors but everything turned out A.O.K. You've been a great teacher + friend throughout all my good + bad days. I hope that your career goals will be met as well as your dreams. I'll miss you and remember all the great times we've had this year

"What a life! God is good!"

The Fontaines at their daughter's wedding.

The Miracle of Friendship

(One of Mr. Fontaine's favorite poems)

There's a miracle called "Friendship"
That dwells within the heart,
and you don't know how it happens
Or when it gets its start. . ..

But the happiness it brings you
Always gives a special lift
And you realize that friendship is God's most precious gift!

Many of us had Mr. Fontaine for science during freshman year. He was one of those teachers that we'd keep in touch with even when we weren't in his class anymore.

Many times during our junior year, he would offer to help us in Chemistry or any other class. That's just the kind of guy he was. No matter what you did wrong or right, he would always remind us, "Mr. Fontaine still loves you." We just hope that he knows that we all love and miss him. Mr. Fontaine, while you're sitting on your park bench up there, remember you will always be here in our hearts.

— Katie Foerster and Kelsey Mullay

"The other day he was thrilled and called me over to look at the little purple flowers that were coming up in the garden outside our front walk. He bought a park bench for the front porch right away so we would be able to have something to sit on while we admired our new neighborhood.

Eddy, I love you and I will miss you until I can join you. Meet me on the park bench."

— from Mr. Fontaine's eulogy, written and read by Mrs. Fontaine at his funeral.

Mr. and Mrs. Fontaine on the town.

Buddies: Mr. Ruberti and Mr. Fontaine.

BEST DIRECTOR/PRINCIPAL

To the students, he's Mr. Fortune. To his pals, he's "Big Al." To all he is a man of looming presence throughout the halls of Barnstable High School. But just who is Alvin B. Fortune? He is a person not much different from you and me. When asked what he remembered about his first day at Barnstable four years ago, for example, he said that he was nervous, but was as "bright-eyed and bushy-tailed" as the rest of us.

Though our graduating class is moving on, we will always remember our first day as freshmen and the arrival of a new principal. But what does Mr. Fortune remember of the Class of '96? "I know that this class in many ways has been instrumental in developing the Alliance Against Violence and Racism," says Mr. Fortune. "They are students who have been able to stand and be counted . . . for things that are good, fair, and true in the school. And they haven't been afraid to voice that opinion and help the situations that needed to be helped." Mr. Fortune also said that he felt that this class showed good leadership qualities.

Like many principals, Mr. Fortune has a long string of accomplishments. "One of the things I've wanted to do for a long time was to increase participation in the school so that everyone felt they could participate. I feel very good about doing that," he said.

"I also think the schedule proved to be a good thing for us," commented Mr. Fortune. The schedule that he is speaking of began this year. Rather than having five to seven 45 minute classes, we now have four 86 minute classes. Also all the classes, except AP classes and Band, last only half a year, and of course, students no longer have free periods. "Already I feel good because I have kids going to class, not hanging out in the cafeteria, and that's an important thing."

Mr. Fortune is also proud that over his four years here at Barnstable, "we had two assistant principals, both of whom were women."

Perhaps one of the highlights of Mr. Fortune's time here has been his participation in the Drama Club's productions. "I feel good about participating in the stage shows," he said. "The best thing about that is the opportunity to meet kids you don't normally meet." Mr. Fortune's stage credits include Old King Cole in Babes in Toyland, a camel driver in Joseph and the Amazing Technicolor Dreamcoat, and a conductor in On the 20th Century.

Not only does Mr. Fortune like theater, he also enjoys movies. Two favorites that he mentioned were Tuskegee Airmen and Dances With Wolves. When asked what he would entitle a movie of his life, he immediately answered, My Good Fortune. We here at Barnacle '96 have taken the liberty of showing you the movie poster for this upcoming film in the space below.

Interview with the Dean

Interviewing your dean is a bit like interviewing your Dad. Not that a dean is able to take over the position of a father figure in someone's life, it's just that the role reversal is odd and strangely submissive. Still, when I walked into Mr. Hicks' office, I was almost instinctively cautious. I had gone through too many Saturday schools to just walk right in all smiles and grab up a chair. It was like returning to the scene of the place where you'd just been mugged. So I walked in slowly, looked behind me, pulled up the chair across from his desk and prepared to begin.

He was sitting back in his chair, hands crossed behind his head the way he does when he calls you in during homeroom wondering why you weren't in 10th period Math the day before. Mr. Hicks looked calm and relaxed like he always does before he slams you right across the jaw with four detentions, but I had a feeling he had no idea what to expect from all this.

I began the interrogation: "Has seeing kids come into this office day after day trying desperately to do anything to get out of trouble corrupted your view of teenagers everywhere?"

"No, I think I'm a realist. Kids are gonna do stupid things. If everyone did everything right, I'd be out of a job."

"Ever thought you were too hard on someone?" Mr. Hicks pauses and looks out the window. "Well, yeah, I've been hard on SOME people. But I've got supervisors and everything usually works out in the end anyhow."

The whole time now Mr. Hicks has been speaking in a normal tone like a regular guy, which is a weird thing to me. His whole demeanor is now suddenly very laid back and more genuine than it is when he's trying to create a presence to reprimand. Mr. Hicks is actually coming off as cool almost.

I ask him if he feels that over the years our excuses as a class as a whole have gotten better or worse. This time he looks out the window and smiles. "There's nothing new," he says, "If a kid comes in here with a new one, I'll usually write it down and give him a pass." Then he smiles and breaks out into a story about how kids of kids he's had in the past are coming in his office now and giving the same kinds of excuses as their parents did.

"Has this class impressed you in any way since we were all a pack of degenerate freshmen?"

"Just in the way it's grown. The maturity. How everybody now pretty much tells the truth. I feel like I can finally treat you all like adults."

Wrapping it up, I lay on the final question: "When this is all done, and five years from now a kid just like me comes in here knowing about as much about the class of '96 as I do about the class of '91, and this is all just a memory, what's gonna be the thing that sticks out in your mind about this class?"

"Basically just a good feeling. I'll think about a class that lost some things like free periods. Inherited 90-minute classes. You coulda been jerks about it, but . . ."

After a few seconds' pause, I add: "We just dealt with it sorta. Like we were the class who dealt with it?"

"Yeah," he says, satisfied. "You guys were the class who dealt with it."

Finished, I stand up and thank him. A little while later I'll think about how painless this whole thing was. About how maybe not all the questions I prepared were awful and Mr. Hicks didn't give me detentions for being stupid enough for asking them. About how he's a normal guy who likes to chill out when he's got a free period and just sit there and look out his window the way we do during class. Because Mr. Hicks is a normal guy, I found out. A normal guy who, after 28 years on the job, probably deserves a little time off from kids like me.

. . . this planet Earth, this island of rock and sea and sky near a warming sun, is distinguished from all others only in that it is mine.

The quote is from "Honey from Stone" by Chet Raymo. We are here to bring honey from stone. We are here to make great things come to pass. Every picture in this book represents someone who has begun to fulfill their dreams. What we need to do is continue. I want to thank my family, especially Mom & Dad, Grammy, Pop, Reenie, Uncle Mike, Rosie, Joey, and my brother, Mike. I thank my friends for making the rough smooth: JD,BB,IB,JC,JL,RO,HH, David Nicol, Noel Tipton, and everyone who helped make me who I am. Just as the Earth is distinguished, so are we.

We live, we try, we fail, or not . . . we die, we all have a good laugh, and we begin again . . . Life: It's freaky, but it happens.

Words spoken fitly are like apples of gold in pictures of silver. Chandan: You know me better than anyone alive, but you need to "grow" a little before we truly see eye to eye. Steve: you are a sick man (hee hee hee), you ARE the Wonder Wombat! Seth: Don't you DARE miss your stage entrance again! Thou art mightier than the SDF itself. Yair, Chris, and Jared: Bradless Rocks!; Barron, Dave: Keep writing and never change; Mike: See ya on Broadway, MW. Aaron: Ya Mon! Keep up the Capoeria, and don't lose your style. My thanks to those who have made impressions on me: My late Grandfather, the two Irish girls at work, my COOL teachers (you know who you are), and all those not mentioned above. Look out, The Bearded Behemoth's Big Bad Blue Bomber shall fly again. This artist is done here, but not with the world, and I don't plan to leave until I have done what I came here to do . . ..

"Hey you; Get off of my cloud"

What up?
I would like to thank my MOM and DAD, Then to all my boyz;
I finally made it.
D.M., K.H., M.F., F.A., M.G.J., D.A., D.A., D.A., B.C., G.W., G.B., M.S., TERYE, LOVE YOU, BABE. To the rest of the fools — Peace, MAN. To all the nights at MONK D's, it's been fun.
HEENAN'S FOREVER!!

Laura Dalrymple

you know it's time to stop poking the meat when it starts jumping

there is a small dark corner where the motif of the hour is kill * oh, is that what you call it . . . krystal, sushi and sporklet * some senseless act of violence happens behind this wall while you sit there and dribble aimlessly * this is no time to act like a girl * nothing, whatever * MC, LB, JR, RB, JJ, GM, EN * uh, you have some hair in your face and then 86 * just because is good enough * when i grow up, i'm gonna be a pumpkin patch * i'm outta here . . . (the loonies escape from the bin)

"If you wanna be somebody,
If you wanna go somewhere,
You better wake up and pay attention."

First of all, I would like to thank God, for helping me in everything. Then I want to thank my parents, 'cause they were my inspiration, and they helped me too, and next I want to thank Mrs.Sands, she had the patience to deal with me, and I thank Mrs. Herr, for helping me in my schedule, Mrs. Potts, Mrs. Gyra; even though I'm not a American, they knew how to teach, for me was okay to understanding. Para os Brasileiros, um grande abraço e estudem muito, e um futuro melhor para cada um.

FCA: SENTENCE DIVERSITY... This sentence was made in Japan. This sentence glows in the dark. This sentence has a crush on Norman Mailer. (The sleep of reason produces monsters) This sentence lost its mind searching for the perfect paragraph. This sentence ran off with an adverb clause. (Sometimes the long way around is the shortest way home) This sentence is 100% organic -- unlike those of Homer, Shakespeare and Goethe, which are loaded with preservatives. I would quote God but he has never spoken.

It seems to me that to try to fit 17 years of a life into a 4x4 margin would be foolish. To my friends I say, you know who you are and what we did. If we could remember it, it wasn't that fun. We may not have followed the rules, but we did have good times. Thanks to my friends, teachers, especially MOM, DAD, NAT and the rest of the family. High School was easy; surviving was hard.

Never gonna change up my style just to fit in!!!

First I'd like to thank my mother, Susan Beartuex, for all the help she gave me through high school. I would also like to thank Joeseph Burk, for helping me during my junior and senior years. After I graduate from high school I plan to go to a college in California. High school was fun, but I am glad I am done with it. I would like to thank my friend and cousin Keith Putnam for all the help he has given me through my four years in high school. I would like to thank Josh Underhill for being there when I needed him. Now I would like to just thank everyone by initials, to all the guys; N.S, J.H, N.M, M.W. To Melissa and all her friends. I would like to thank Matt Schuster, and Ben Curry for being the best of friends over the years. Like I said I am glad to be done with school, and I can't wait to go to college!!!

Clubs

"The Learning Tree" — Recycling Club

Directed by: Ms. West

This environmentally — aware film opened our eyes to the importance of recycling. The actors felt that they owed the success of this movie to Ms. West, who had faith in the recycling program and organized it again this year. The continual behind-the-scene work by Mr. Siegal and his ACES students kept this film running smoothly. The cast wants to thank all the teachers and students who supported their film by recycling their paper. This film deserves four stars for their effort to make this world a better place for us and trees.

"The Driver" — S.A.D.D.

Directed by: Miss Nickerson

This emotionally riveting club is driven to making students more aware of the hazards of mixing cars and alcohol. Dan Dumas and Mike Duffley have opened the school's eyes to the dangers of drinking and driving. They truly epitomize sobriety and are twin pillars of strength in the BHS community. This club's for you!

Directed by: Mrs. Potts

This toe-tapping film contained dazzling performances from fresh new actors. "Swing Kids" features actors from all different backgrounds coming together with a common goal — to perform! The performers keep you on the edge of your seat with dances ranging from hip-hop to ballet, as well as jazz, lyrical, tap and cultural dances. Look for these memorable scenes: the van ride to Boston, the June '95 recital and Bananas — ah! We ate the Barnacle give this film two very enthusiastic thumbs up!

"Swing Kids" — College Dance Club

Directed by: Mr. Michael Sullivan

As an educational and dramatic effort, this film prevails. The cast is made up entirely of seniors who all contribute to BHS in their own unique ways. The National Honor Society offers tutoring and their time to help other students. They also aim to make the school a better place. The most enjoyable moment in this film was the invitation into the National Honor Society by the Class of '95's graduating members. This film is done "with honors" and is a definite four star hit.

"With Honors" — National Honor Society

"Class Act" — Drama Club

Directed by: Mr. John Sullivan

This electrifying film features a cast of over 100 members. The focus of this movie is to give as many students as possible the opportunity to gain confidence and learn other useful skills. This theatrical group also handles many topics from child safety to domestic violence as a regular part of their performances. Among the talented cast members are veterans Kristin Martone, Jen Gillis, Bobby Blackburn, Liz Wroe, Seth Frisby, Amy Roma and Beth Roma, all of whom have contributed in many areas throughout the film. This movie promises fits of laughter and true entertainment.

"Do the Right Thing" — Imani Club

"Final Mission" — Student Council

Directed by: Mr. Linehan

This brillant film dealt with the issues and concerns of the student body at Barnstable High School, including Spirit Week, parking and new school plans. The officers, along with Amy Franco, Molly Dillon and Ellenor Emery with their creativity, time and patience, made this a truly spectacular film. This movie is a must-see!

"Hot Shots" — Photography Club

"Speechless" — Speech and Debate Team

Directed by: Mr. Gorrill

This interactive club gave students a chance to actively participate in their development through photography. Jill Howland and Lauren Shakalis added excellent performances to this film as co-mentors of the darkroom who lead the initiated into "the light." We recommend this "hot shot."

Directed by: Ms. Rockwell

This breathtaking film features great dialogue and performances. This is a team of fine actors who had no difficulty vocalizing their opinions and would debate until they were blue in the face in order to walk home with a trophy. Some unforgettable highlights in this flick were the Dunkin' Donuts run at 7AM, "the upper air" and the "Hip rats." A memorable quote from this movie is "Remember — there wouldn't be a Rocky without a Stoney."

"Dead Poets Society" — Poetry Club

Directed by: Mr. Alleyne

This lyrical film revolves around a few students coming together to discuss their work and their ideas about poetry. Jill Howland, Lauren Shakalis, Alice Nelson and Coleen Crocker brought excellent performances to this film as leaders of the "Dead Poets Society." Much like a poem, this film came together nicely; we recommend it highly.

Directed by: Mrs. Collins

This global film is about an organization that hosts and helps the international exchange students who come to Barnstable High School. The goal of this film is to introduce them to our world and to give them the opportunity to share their world with Barnstable students. Some high points of this film include sending books to children in Belize and working on a peace project at the United Nations. A local project that took place was supplying bicycle helmets to Barnstable kids who needed them. Barnacle '96 commends your efforts with a Golden Globe Award.

"Between Two Wonds." — Interact Club

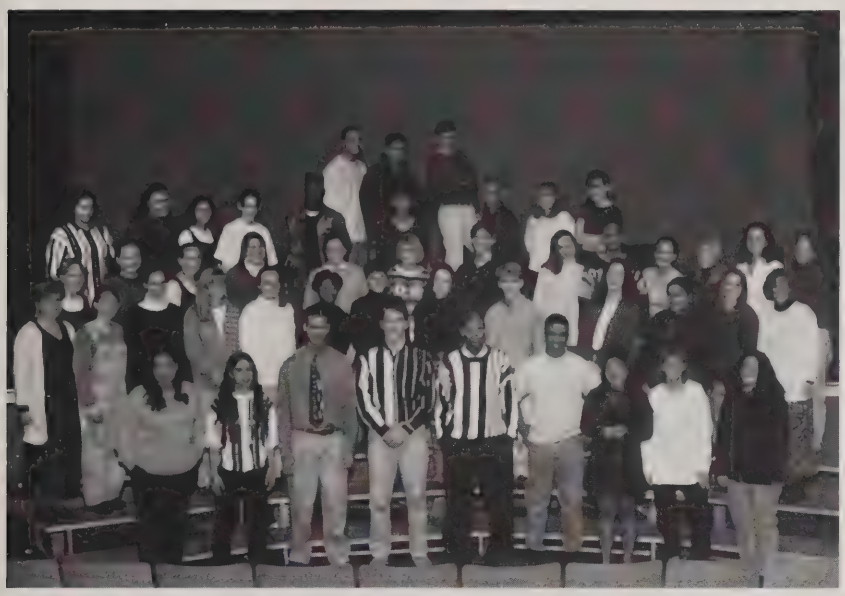
"Ski Patrol" — Ski Club

"Business As Usual" — Trading Post

Directed by: Mrs. Pierce

This film revolves around the efforts of several dedicated underclassmen. They are here for the convenience of the student body as well as the teachers. In this film, they aim to provide a full-service retail store to service the BHS community with merchandise needed during the school day. Your hands will be sore from applauding this movie. Great job!

"Higher Learning" — The Alliance Against Violence and Racism



Directed by: Mrs. Mason and Ms. Rogean

This film of over a hundred cast members is dynamic. The main purpose of this movie was to try to make the school a safer place for everyone and to educate their fellow students. The cast of "Higher Learning" is proud of their mediation record — a perfect 100%. This group handles many projects, from workshops at elementary schools to the Walk for Harmony, and is always working to make our school and community a better place. The most memorable scenes in this film are the Team Harmony Event, playing basketball with the fifth grade students and their discussion after The Walkout. We definitely recommend this film!

"Broadcast News" — Broadcasting Club

"The All American" — Key Club

Directed by: Ms. Welch

This inspiring club shows leadership and service to the community. Its dedicated cast has shown true allegiance to our school throughout the years. One of the many highlights was the no sleep weekend, "ugh", and the end of the year party. The Barnacle gives this club two thumbs up — way up!

"Coming To America" — E.S.L.

Directed by: Renate Sands and Pam Silva

This diverse club is composed of a group of international students who are given the opportunity to learn English as a second language. Throughout the film the students learn more about their surroundings, which include BHS and scenic Cape Cod. Memorable moments of the film include playing soccer on a beach in Chatham, watching beavers at the Omni Theater, eating gooey sandwiches at Quincy Market and getting wet at Rocky Point. Eduardo Almeida gave an excellent performance with his positive attitude and leadership role in this film. The Barnacle staff gives "Coming to America" two thumbs up!

"The Great Outdoors" — Outing Club

Directed by: Mr. Gorrill

This suspenseful film kept us on the edge of our seats all the way through their climbs at Quincy Quarries, Crow Hill and Mount Monadnock. All the characters faced many challenges, both to themselves and the group. As they left for Mt. Monadnock in two vehicles it was said, "That's the last we'll see of them . . ." We here at the Barnacle Staff hope this isn't true of these spectacular new actors.

"Across the Tracks" — Peer Leadership

Directed by: Mr. Buckman

This dynamic cast has worked to establish pride in our school. Each year Peer Leadership makes an appearance at our middle schools to calm the fears of our incoming freshmen. This club has broken boundaries by reaching out and touching us all deep in the heart. The Barnacle staff gives them two thumbs up!

"See No Evil" — Leo Club

Directed by: Mr. Schlegel

This inspirational club is dedicated to community service. Whether they're collecting cans for the food drive, sponsoring a family during the holiday season, or continuing their never-ending quest to end blindness, they are always on cue. A memorable highlight was when 12 cast members served 5,000 people at a road race. This film is a must-see, but bring your Kleenex, because it'll touch your heart.

"Hackers" — Computer Club

Directed by: Mr. Carlon

This documentary works to cover all of the various issues, personalities, clubs and organizations that affect BHS. Insight's goal is to publish five or six accurate and objective issues of the school newspaper with the fewest typos possible. Even though this is a "serious" film, it does contain moments of comic relief, such as the time when Molly, Kate, and Scarpmama scarfed down potato chips like hungry wildcats while laying out the second issue. Overall, this was an excellent effort by all.

"The Paper" — Insight

Directed by: Ms. Lawrence

Kaleidoscope gives students a chance to have something published whether it's poetry, short stories, photography, or their own artwork. All students can submit their pieces, even if they're not club members. Kaleidoscope strives to produce varied issues and hopes to reach a broader audience at BHS. Highlights include the all-day layout in the pit and the first day that the magazine comes out. You deserve a Pulitzer!

"Kaleidoscope" — Literary Magazine

"The Sound of Music" — Band

Directed by: Mr. Stevens

This talented club gives new meaning to the word gifted. We lost count of the number of awards won by this film. The BHS marching band supports our football team and acts as ambassadors of our school at many off-campus events. They add greatly to the spirit of our school. There are many talented cast members among the cast of over a hundred students. Among their special memories are the silver and gold medals won; "It rained again at the Windjammers! Ahhh!" They had a great trip to Virginia, Pennsylvania and Washington. This film is a must-see for the whole family.

"Music in the Air" — Orchestra

Conducted by: Mr. Schaefer

This film is enriched with musical talent, creativity and feeling. This heartthrobbing, pulsating feature shows the beauty of musical expression. Mr. Schaefer's first full length feature film, we give it four brilliantly shining stars.

"American Flyers" — Color Guard

"A Chorus Line" — Chorus

Composed by: Mr. Rosenblatt

This musical was about a group of students working together to become a reputable ensemble visible to the public and their school. The seniors served as the leaders and played a large role in raising the professionalism of the ensemble through their dedication and work ethic. This is one chorus line you must see!

Directed by: Mr. Stevens

"Colorful" is the only way to describe this film as the cast has fun adding sparkle to the field show. A memorable aspect of this movies is that the squad choreographed the show on its own and did a great job. Led by Stacey McGrath as their captain, they have accomplished many goals, including their spring competition trip to Washington, D.C. Plain and simple, this film ROCKS!

After 34 years of teaching, 27 of these at Barnstable High School, the head of the Social Studies department, Mr. Ed Cliggott, will be retiring at the end of this school year.

Mr. Cliggott is a B.H.S. graduate and continued his education at Cornell University, Yale University and the University of Hawaii.

Mr. Cliggott "has contributed wit, gentleness and a sterling intellect" to the faculty, says Vice Principal Mrs. Regan. Also mentioned was Mr. Cliggott's joy in "discussing history and politics with his department colleagues before homeroom every morning."

When asked about the impression the class of 1996 made on him, "Cliggott-san" said that we were a "fun group" of students. "Most are good" and, in general, he said, seemed to "enjoy the topics" presented.

Although we did leave quite an impression on "Cliggott-san", he will hopefully be able to move on with his life after leaving B.H.S. He plans to continue working as a security guard and hopes to travel in the future.

The Class of '96 wishes Mr. Cliggott all the best.

— Kate Klotz

Can you believe it? "Ichabod" as a G.I. Joe.

Ed Cliggott

Tall and lanky with a weird sense of humor
He's quiet, soft-spoken and holds in his furor.
Diligently he works as he sits behind his desk,
Always in deep thought, thinking about his time of rest.
Or perhaps he's thinking about China — a place
which he knows best.
Japan, China or World War II
Are the subjects that he will spiel out to you
But please don't think that he's strange or odd —
Just remember that he's related to Ichabod!

"Cliggott-san" at home in the Social Studies wing

Subject: Ed Cliggott (alias Monsieur Cliggaeux, aka Eddie Woo)

I guess Ed and I are the last of the displaced faculty of BHS. Let's see now, we have taught in what is now the Foreign Language wing, the Math wing, the English wing (during construction the last time) and finally the Social Studies wing. He probably holds the record for the most classrooms "I Have Known" because since he has been Department Head he has not held a permanent room. I think he has taught in all of the Social Studies rooms. That's getting around!

We have endured "Open Campus," "Open Classrooms," "Closed Campus," "Closed Classrooms," construction and demolition of the school, "Double Sessions," "Rotating Schedules" and now "Block Scheduling." If somebody thought it, Ed and I did it!

My fondest memories of Ed are of our times during double sessions. Ed and I had the last session. I think we got out of school about 5:00 PM everyday. It was dark for most of the school year when we left. On Fridays we would wend our way to Mildred's Chowder House with Dinny Dwyer and other "late session" faculty members (all of whom, save Ed and me are now with the "Maker."). It was there that we founded and became Charter Members for Life of the "Four Square Circle, Triangle, Eating, Drinking, Singing and Marching Society, Chowder Club." The conversations were lively and some of the inevitable "adventures" that followed the "meetings" are best left to our memories.

We had some interesting experiences during "Open Campus" as well. The drinking age was 18 in Massachusetts then, and many of our students were "legal." Conveniently, Bud's Country Lounge was right across the street. Ed taught all upperclassmen. Afternoon senior classes were often boisterous to say the least! Ed used to comment that "if you can't fight 'em join 'em." Of course, he never did, but it made for hilarious situational commentary.

I think Ed's greatest contribution to BHS is his expertise in Asian History. He is the recognized expert in this area. He is also learned in American History and he is willing to share his knowledge with any student or faculty member. He has brought a quiet steadiness to the Social Studies Department during his tenure as Chairman. He has always kept his dry, spontaneous sense of humor. Those who don't know him very well would think of him as quiet and reserved. WRONG!

"I want everybody on the team to achieve satisfaction," says Don Smith, boys cross-country coach at BHS. In the 1995 season, this aspiration became a reality, thanks to hard work and determination by each and every team member. On both team and individual levels, goals were surpassed, new confidence was instilled, and a sense of true team spirit was created — a quality that had been lacking in the past seasons.

The squad was led by junior Mike Merrill and senior Seth Reid. Together, they kept the team focused on their goals, and in their own individual ways, established themselves as team leaders. Possibly their most important contribution, Smith commented, was that "both captains made everyone on the team feel included," an important factor on any sports team.

The boys rounded out their season with a 3-5 record, which was somewhat disappointing, since one of the losses was by five points and another by just two. However, Merrill was undefeated in league meets with the exception of one in which he came in a close second. Right behind him was sophomore Jake Klim, who returned from last season with a vengeance, placing in the top five in every league meet. Merrill and Klim's outstanding efforts resulted in their being named OCL All-Stars.

As far as improvements over last season go, Smith stressed "pack running" as key. "I've achieved [more] pack runners this year than any other year that I've coached," added Smith. The pack was led by a core of sophomores: Adam Hufnagle, Dan Lake, and Eddie Murphy. These runners were willing to give up the "me-first" mentality and band together to push each other through the race. This caused their opponents to work twice as hard if they wanted to surpass the pack and gain the places necessary for a victory.

A perfect example of the "pack" in action would be Barnstable's bone-crushing defeat of Taunton. First, second, and third place were taken by Barnstable runners, which already guaranteed them a victory. But to top it off, Barnstable also took hold of fourth and fifth place, resulting in a whooping 17 to 46 win. Hufnagle, who placed fourth, commented on the outcome: "We ran a smart race. Keeping in a pack of about four kids really helped us push ourselves harder than we usually do. I guess it's kind of like moral support." Coach Smith emphasizes that "smart" running, as mentioned by Hufnagle, is "something that this year's team has worked on throughout the season." So where is cross-country headed for in the 1996 season? With so many underclassmen reaching great heights this season, and with a little extra focus, they're destined for great success next season — you can count on it.

Girls Cross Country

"We had a very successful season," said first year girls cross-country coach Keith Caldwell about this year's team. "Our OCL dual meet record was 6-2; we went 8-3 overall."

The team's most prominent runners were sophomore Jessica Johnston, seniors Heather McLane and Casey Chamberlain, and freshman Liz Dager. "Jessica has proven to be one of the premier runners in the state. Liz Dager was a surprise freshman performer who was our number three runner consistently, and who lost to only two opponents at the league meet. Casey Chamberlain also came up big in many meets, particularly against Falmouth, a 25-30 win. Jessica and Heather were named to the league All-Star team, and Liz received an honorable mention," said Mr. Caldwell.

McLane as well as Georgina Ridge and Chamberlain, were captains of the 1995 team, with each contributing to the team in their own special manner. Caldwell cites McLane as "the quiet leader who led by her work ethic and outstanding performances." According to McLane, "being a captain had its advantages, but it should not be forgotten that each and every member gives something to the team." Chamberlain is considered the "cheerleader" of the team, and is also recognized as being a "vital varsity scorer." Ridge showed her team leadership through "perseverance, dedication and commitment." Unfortunately, Ridge struggled with injuries for most of the season, but showed her Raider pride on the sidelines. During the dual meet season, the girls were a force to be reckoned with, losing just three meets by a total of five points. When the annual Old Colony League Championship Meet came around, the Barnstable girls were itching to get revenge on the teams that had slipped by. The results were astounding, with Barnstable finishing in first, second, and fifth place. When the points were tallied up, the girls were just shy of a victory. "We were runners-up to Weymouth, as we were in the regular season," said Mr. Caldwell.

When asked if there was an aspect of the season in which the girls exceeded his expectations, Mr. Caldwell replied, "After a very disappointing loss to Plymouth South, the team rebounded by beating Falmouth soundly in an outstanding team effort. In that race, 13 of 20 Raiders ran their fastest times ever on their home course."

Moving on to next season, what does Caldwell have in store for his team? "I hope to recruit at least ten athletes from the incoming ninth grade class, and develop running closer together in a pack, particularly my 3rd through 7th (place) runners."

"I'm proud that I could be a part of such a successful team," said McLane. "I wish the best to up and coming cross country runners," she added.

"Left. Left. Left, right, left. Our cleats are dirty, our kilts too tight; our hips they swing from left to right. Say one, two, three, four, five — Barnstable High don't take no jive. Say six, seven, eight, nine, ten — back it up and that's the end!"

The field hockey team ended its season this year with a 8-10-1 record, just tone win away from going to the tournament. "I think we did fairly well," said varsity coach C. J. Bernal. "We improved upon last year's record and gained some valuable experience."

What were the team's strengths and weaknesses?

"We had a strong midfield and a good offense. We improved our ball-handling skills throughout the season and eventually we learned to work as a team," said senior co-captain Kate Klotz.

Coach Bernal commented on the team's goals this year. "Our biggest goal was to make it into the tournament, but other goals were conditioning, improvement of skills, and to win more games."

Senior Leah Stapleton added, "I think our biggest achievement was that we all got along so well; we weren't just playing hard for ourselves, we were playing hard for the entire team."

Molly Driscoll, were the team leaders and acted as a liaison between the coach and the players.

"As captain I felt a lot more pressure and responsibility for the team this year," said Molly Driscoll. "It was also my most enjoyable and memorable season."

The team was also proud to say that two of their players were named Old Colony League All-Stars. The honored players are senior Adriane Bonaparte and junior Mary Kate Moniz.

Parents added to the success of this year's team by starting the Field Hockey Booster Club. They sold food and drinks at the games to raise money for warm-up suits and gifts for the seniors.

In addition, Mr. Moniz was the team's private landscaper; he came to the field after practice to water and fertilize the brown grass. By the end of the season the Raiders had one of the best fields in the league.

The team is expected to be very strong next year. "We have more than half of the varsity team returning and strong JV players moving up. I think we'll have a great season," said sophomore Alison Kelly.

In conclusion, the coach has sent a special message to the seniors, "Good luck next year. We will miss you!"

Immense size. Overwhelming power. Darting speed. These three staples of the 1995 Raiders propelled them to an unprecedented undefeated season, capped off by a fitting annihilation of New Bedford in the Div. IA Super Bowl. Touted as the most talented and versatile team in the state, the Red Raiders used their many-faceted players to the best of their potential.

Many would argue that the offensive squad was the most productive and proficient in this school's long football tradition. That claim seemed justified. Led by slashing, option-loving captain Mike Griffin, the Barnstable ground attack devastated all comers. Whether it was Griffin sweeping outside the tackles, or pitching to Boston Globe All-Star Mike Duffley to hammer it down the gut, the running game hardly ever stagnated. When it did, however, Griffin changed hats to become a precise passer, while Duffley became a receiving/blocking back. The core of receivers, led by Anthony Adams and Ryan Johnson, responded brilliantly whenever called upon, often spread-ing the defense so thin, it, in essence, sur-rendered.

But the key to the Raiders' offensive suc-cesses lay in the play-to-play battle in the trenches. An offensive line averaging 250 plus met these challenges consistently and over-came them head-on. Anchored by Paul La-Querre, the most acclaimed lineman ever to play at Barnstable, the offensive line devas-tated opponents while opening up gaping run-ning holes or furnishing Griffin with incred-ible pass protection.

An aspect of this great football team that was often lost amid the tales of the offense's success was the manhandling undergone by opponents at the hands of the Red Raiders defense. Headed by seniors Jon Sproul and Eddie Griffin, the defense thoroughly van-quished almost every attempt of the opposition to break through to the end zone. When an adversary would realize that their ground at-tack would be of no help, they would often revert to the air. Under the guidance of senior Anthony Adam (team-high six interceptions), this strategy met with little, if any, success. The trophy-pieces of this defense came in the final two games of the season. The first was a shut-out drubbing of the potent Falmouth Clippers, followed by another shutout of the highly re-garded offense of New Bedford in the Super Bowl.

It had become clichéd to say a team won through its "team efforts," but these Red Raid-ers have exemplified team unity and success all season. There were no arrogant Deion Sanders or profanity-spewing Michael Irvins on this team. Just great football players, pure and sim-ple, playing the game the way the game was supposed to be played.

Fore!

The BHS golf team posted a perfect 22-0 record en route to this year's state championship. The team's 16-0 Old Colony mark gave the Raiders their fifth consecutive title in this highly competitive league. The team's scores of 310 and 309 in the OCL and South Sectional tournaments respectively were the lowest ever in either tournament's history.

What could have made the season any sweeter? How about archrival Falmouth falling victim to Barnstable twice during the regular season? One of these victories included a confidence-building final regular-season meeting. Major contributors were seniors Dennis Konary, Whitney Trimble and Matt Scioletti. Both Dennis and Matt were named as OCL All-Stars, and Scioletti tied for second in the State Championship. However, it was actually three underclassmen — Drew Scioletti, Shawn Kingman and Dan Hedlund — who were the team's top three seeded players. Drew and Dan were named to the Boston Herald All-Scholastic team, while Shawn earned the OCL Sportsmanship award. At the State Championship Hedlund shot a 77, giving him the individual title. With his first three players returning and productive JV players, Coach Bob Kingman can't be anything but optimistic about his team's future, and can't be anything but worried.

Yet another positive of the '95 season was Coach Kingman's achievement of 100 wins as head coach. The fifth year Coach says that his team's success comes from his teaching of the "mental aspect of the game of golf", as well as the focus his talented players need to perform to the best of their ability.

"This is the best season I've ever had," Mr. Kingman said, and adds that he would like the seniors "to keep on swinging!"

With a final record of 4-13-1, the boys soccer team actually improved from last year. Still, they did not reach their goal of making the state tournament. At the beginning of the year the coaching staff and the senior players hoped to have an outstanding year; said head coach Dave Doherty, "We're the most talented boys soccer team that I've ever seen in my five years of teaching in the system."

The top scorer this season was talented sophomore Wellington Soares, who played remarkably. In fact, most of the team was composed of underclassmen. However, seniors Mark Rose, Ceamus McDermott and Kenny Houle led the way with their own individual play. Senior Ian Brady and sophomore Milton Speid also had great seasons.

Coach Doherty isn't the only one controlling the reins. He has extraordinary help from assistant coach and former BHS player Mark Fellous, who will continue to build the team in upcoming seasons. He and coach Fellows agree that not only is there great individual play, the team has also gelled, "supporting each other in good times and rough," according to Coach Doherty. Next year the team hopes to play hard, escape injuries, get back to the tournament and win a state championship for Barnstable High School.

For the second year in a row, the Raiders girls soccer team finished second place in the Old Colony League. Their 12-2-4 record and strong finish were a surprise because the team had lost nine seniors from last year's powerhouse.

This year's team beat archrival Falmouth 3-1, at Falmouth, their first win ever over the Clippers. Back home later in the season, the Raiders tied them in a 0-0 classic. The girls beat every team in O.C.L. with one exception: Weymouth, whom they tied once and lost to once. This turned out to be an omen of things to come, as Weymouth was the Raiders' opening-round foe in the tournament.

The majority of the Raiders' goals this season were tallied by a pair of sharpshooting underclassmen forwards, junior Vicky Shalian and sophomore Janine Valente. Their quickness and endurance were important factors in this year's successful season.

Equally impressive was the Red Raiders defense, led by seniors Ellenor Emery, Carleen Carpenter and Krista Depew and junior co-captain Sarah Jay.

Midfield was controlled by senior co-captain Christine Frauton and junior Meg McDermott. This almost unbeatable pair helped the Raiders both offensively and defensively. Other senior midfielders who contributed to this year's strong team included Cara Cazeault, Corri Glydon and Kristen Scarpato.

On receiving end of the Old Colony League's shooters was goalie Kristina Kern, a sophomore, who played in her first varsity season. She had some tough shoes to fill succeeding last year's star goalie Tanie McIntyre, and she did an exceptional job. She received much of her training from one of this year's new assistant coaches, a veteran of the team, Robin Michonski. Robin proved to be a valuable asset in the success of the Raider defense.

When asked about his overall view of the season, Coach Shrum replied, "We started off slow, but finished strong." Finishing strong was one of the reasons for the loss of one of "Shrummie's" longtime friends: his beard. For several years he had been promising the girls that if they defeated Falmouth he would shave his beard, and he proved as good as his word after this year's win over the Clippers.

"We wanted to win the South Sectionals, go undefeated and win the States. These were our three goals that we set for ourselves at the beginning of the season — and we did all three," said Mindy Nichols after the Red Raiders volleyball team capped its season of success by taking the State Championship at Assumption College.

What were the team's strengths? "Senior leadership and overall experience," according to Coach Tom Turco. "All the players on the team played in the off-season in the Junior Olympic program. Besides their skill, the players put the goals of the team far ahead of their individual goals."

When asked about coaching, Coach Turco noted that "coaching a team that is expected to win has different challenges. I would never complain when I have a team that wants to be the best."

"The team couldn't have done it without the three senior captains: Kristin Zikas, Mindy Nichols and Cathie Harrington, whose talent and dedication were no small part of the Raiders' 25-0 record.

So to all the players, thanks for all of your hard work, hours of dedication and unrelented loyalty to the program. Your leadership skill and positive attitude have brought Barnstable to new and greater heights. For this you have my gratitude and respect," commented Turco, who copped a few Coach of the Year awards of his own.

"As a younger player you look at your teammates. As you get older, you look to your coach," concludes Cathie Harrington, explaining what it's like to be on a championship volleyball team.

Experience. That is the word that best describes this year's talented gymnastics team. With a mid season record of 5-1, senior captain Carleen Carpenter says that their secret to success is that "We all have experience in competing."

The lone senior and four-year veteran on the team, Carleen is a strong leader. She broke the school record of 8.45 on the balance beam with her 8.7. She then went on to break her own school record with an 8.8, evidence of her great talent.

This year's skilled team started the season with a ang when they broke the school all-around record of 19 at their first meet against Plymouth North nd South. The girls' all- around points totaled 122.8, nd has successively in- creased with each meet.

The brunt of this year's talent lies with its under-lassmen. With five new ex- perienced freshmen, Angela Balzotti, Bailey Carinda, Amanda Leon, Faye Pitts nd Deanna Valente, the skill level has drastically inreased.

Sophomore star Jessica
leaton moved to Barnsta- ble this year and has com-eted in the all-around for the team. She, along with owerhouse Monica Rob- erts (also a sophomore), has een a tremendous asset this season.

Also defeated by Barnsta- ble this season have been Notre Dame, Marshfield and New Bedford, with trong performances by the team's supporting cast of nior co-captain Jill Renzi, Jolyn Ahnquist, Caitlin Mark, and sophomores Danielle Beausang, Christia Tovet and Erin McGuirk.

The team's only loss thus ar came at its second meet against last year's state hampions, Randolph High School.

Under the direction of coaches Steve Francis and aura Devlin, the team has hopes of continuing its sucess.

"We want to be the Old

At the beginning of the basketball season, Coach Turner had high hopes for his crew. How could he not, with the likes of Shaun Fein, Ryan Johnson, Jon Sproul and Haskell Kennedy returning from last year's standout squad? Add to the mix new/old coach Dave Brackett and some solid underclassmen and the Raiders had the makings of another contender.

And contend they did, putting up a 12-8 record and earning a tournament berth again. Led by those seniors, the Raiders battled all year against the usual adversities, and a few more that don't usually crop up. Or have you heard of games called on account of a leaky roof before? These hoopers probably wanted to play anyway, because you get the feeling that Fein could drain 3-pointers in a monsoon, that Kennedy's slams could out-thunder any storm and that Sproul could have scared away whatever climatic condition tried to get between him and a loose ball just by flexing his hair and shooting that "Don't mess with me" look.

Shaun Fein saved his best for his last home game, sinking his 1000th point from the foul line in a big, emotion-packed win over Harwich. Even the tournament loss to Durfee can't take away the magic of that moment. Or the magic of playing on the team as a senior. Coach Turner knew that, saying of his seniors before the season, "This is their final year to enjoy basketball, so I told them to do just that: Enjoy it."

They looked like they did. And so did their fans.

Currently playing to win the league championship, the Barnstable girls basketball team has showed that girls sports are nothing to joke about.

"Speed and quickness are the strengths of this year's team," said head coach Dr. Keith Clarke. "We have the potential to surpass the accomplishments of last year's excellent team."

Senior co-captain Christine Frauton, point guard, added, "We run the floor well, and on defense we're good with our hands."

Frauton, one of three returning starters, is second among scoring leaders in the Cape and Islands, averaging 21 points per game. "That's just vintage Christine," said Coach Clarke. "She always finds a way to get the ball in the basket or find the open player."

There's a great amount of talent for Coach Clarke to work with. Star volleyball player senior Kristen Zikas plays a strong center; junior Vicky Shalian is quicker than ever. Meanwhile, senior co-captain Mindy Nichols dominates the middle, and freshman Amy Shultz is a talented six-foot center. Sophomores Carrie Bosworth and Janine Valente add depth and scoring punch.

The team has set a lot of goals for itself this season.

"We're trying to win the league by winning all our games," said Zikas. "I think if we're more confident than we are right now, we'll go all the way. Confidence is one of our weaknesses."

What is it like coaching this year's team?

"Interesting," says Coach Clarke. "There are four sophomores and two freshmen on the team. Young players tend to be inconsistent and that makes for interesting coaching situations."

Good luck, girls! Though with all your talent, how much will you need?

As we go to press, the Lady Raiders have made it to the second round of the state tournament, upsetting top-seeded Plymouth South after dispensing of Whitman-Hanson.

With a core group of only four seniors, and a talented, but extremely undersized, sophomore contingent, the Raider hockey team epitomizes the "rebuilding process." Of course, their woes could be attributed to the departure of longtime coach Peter Melchiono, but most anyone who has seen a game can vouch for its being more than that. Since the glory days of Red Raider hockey just four years ago, the entire program has taken a decided downturn. To be fair, this wasn't entirely its own fault. After their state championship season of '91-'92, Barnstable hockey players began topping every private school wish list as possible recruits. Many a talented player has been spirited away to the glitz and glamour of private school athletics over the past few years.

The loss of these, though, cannot begin to rationalize the dismalness of the first half of the '95-'96 season. After only two lackluster wins (both against teams as much in the doldrums of mediocrity as they were) in their first dozen games, things did not bode well for the rest of the season.

According to Coach Danby, "The first half was an adjustment period learning a new philosophy." But, he added, "The second half should begin to show significant improvement."

Raider fans had to agree with the coach, for although the Raiders finished up under .500, that second half improvement came to pass. Highlights included wins over three teams headed for the state tourney, all of which beat BHS earlier in the season.

The last game of the year was a great way to end the season, a 3-2 dumping of New Bedford, in which the Raiders scored a late goal after two by freshman Sean McShane. The bitter taste of the first half was only a memory that night.

Of his seniors, Coach Danby commented, "Each and every senior contributed in his own way. This was not easy coming off a disappointing last year and also facing a new staff."

A bittersweet year at best, but take care, hockey fans, when this new class of freshman and sophomore "tykes" bulk up, we may just have the basis for a force to reckon with.

New to the varsity sports roster this year is the Barnstable High School swim team. With this new recognition the coach and team are very optimistic about a great season to come. When asked of the team's strengths this season, Coach Barbara Knowlton replied, "We have many returning seniors who swam on our club team last year. Also, a good freshman class of experienced swimmers."

The seniors on the swim team this year are Meg Guimond, Alexis Karr, Whitney Maker, Meg Noonan and Matthew Rice. This season Coach Knowlton expects the team to have a winning season and to be at the top of the Old Colony League standings. The Raiders' main competitors this season will be Nantucket and Nauset.

The swim team members are also very optimistic about a great season. "We have a really hard-working team; now that we are a varsity team, we can really be a powerhouse," commented junior swimmer Sarah Jay. Senior Matt Rice agreed: "This year is a lot of fun. We are successful now and will continue to be for the rest of the year." Senior co-captain Alexis Karr had a slightly different view on this subject: "I dread practice everyday, but after it's over I always feel a great sense of accomplishment."

The swimmers are looking forward to the first of many fine varsity seasons. Coach Knowlton would also like to wish her seniors good luck in the future and to remember that swimming is a sport for life!

CAN DIDS

Ryan,

One of the greatest joys in life that one can ever know is to have a truly precious son and watch that small child grow . . . and now that you've reached manhood and I must let go, remember that I love you; just how much you will never know.

Congratulations!
Love, Mom

LeAnne,
Congratulations,
You Did It!
We're proud of your accomplishments and the endless energy you have to uplift and help others.
Don't ever lose that smile of yours.

Love,
Your Family

Katie,
A whole new world to explore and experience
Ready to move on now
Taking with you
Wonderful memories, special talents
And your flute
Always finding time
To remember your family and friends
A confident young woman now

You've succeeded
We've succeeded

We love you and are so very proud of you.

Love,
Mom, Dad, and Erin

It's hard to believe that you've come this far
And it's time to let you go
The joy you have brought for all that you are
I am sure you just cannot know

You have touched our hearts in such special ways
You're the light for all to see
You've strengthened our hope and brightened our days
You're the best that one could be

Our love and prayers will follow you
And your faith will get you through
We wish you well in whatever you do
And hope that your dreams will come true.

We all love you, Paul —

Good luck in all that you do

May you achieve those goals you are striving for

We know you will

Love,

Dad, Mom, Peter, Chris, and Anne

Lauren and Heather,
We are so proud of you both. You two are the greatest! Many thanks to all the teachers, coaches, employers and friends that helped to guide our daughters. Congratulations on your graduation.

Congratulations, Princess! You have made the first steps toward adulthood. College is meant to be the time between adolescence and adulthood. Remember that the world was once thought to be ending with the "Bomb". The words of the prophets are written on the subway walls. Don't ever have to say "I've been to Paradise . . . but I've never been to me." Go for it! Every day is precious, every living thing has a place, every event has a purpose. Most importantly, remember, "Wise men have the power to reason away." —

All our love,

Dear Jacki ~

My life has been blessed with the gift of being your mother. Thank you for all you have given and taught me. It is truly an honor to have you as my daughter. I am very proud of you, Jacki, You've grown into your own person, intelligent and mature, sensitive and strong, responsible and trustworthy . . . Beautiful within and out. I know with these and the many more wonderful qualities you possess, you will succeed in fulfilling the bright future you have ahead. As you journey the pathways of your life, I pray for your eternal happiness. You are such an important part of my life and you will always hold a precious place in my heart. Please remember I will always be here for you and how very much I will always, always love you.

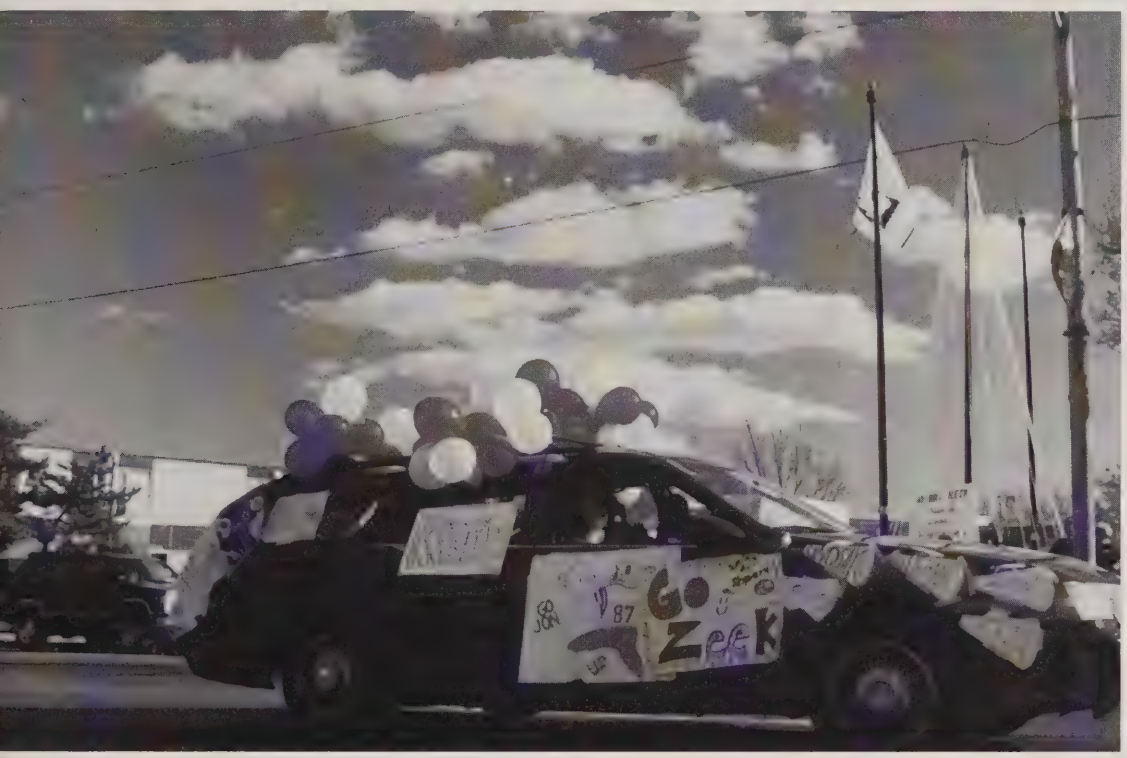
The Sauros

(Clockwise from top left) Caitlin Greer gets that mad glint in her eye; Ms. Johnson and Liz Frost look like good buddies; another scene from "Uncle Tony's Opus"; "I often confer with Kate Klotz at Insight meetings," commented Meghan Sullivan as she began her story; time to make the bagels, Travis Brown; someday even these two frosh will be big kids.



(Clockwise from top left) Someone's actually in the library! Amy Williams throws a pot; Psyched and decorated for the pep rally; Ian Sherwood looks studious; everybody who's anybody goes to the volleyball games; Bobby Mangahastein busts a move.

To Glee and the Class of 1996,

If you can talk with crowds and keep your virtue,
Or walk with Kings and not lose the common touch,
If neither foes nor loving friends can hurt you;
If all men count with you, but none too much;
If you can fill the unforgiving minute
With sixty seconds worth of distance, run —
Yours is the Earth and everything that's in it
And — which is more — you'll be a man, my son!

Love,
Mom and Erin
